A working life, in hardware.

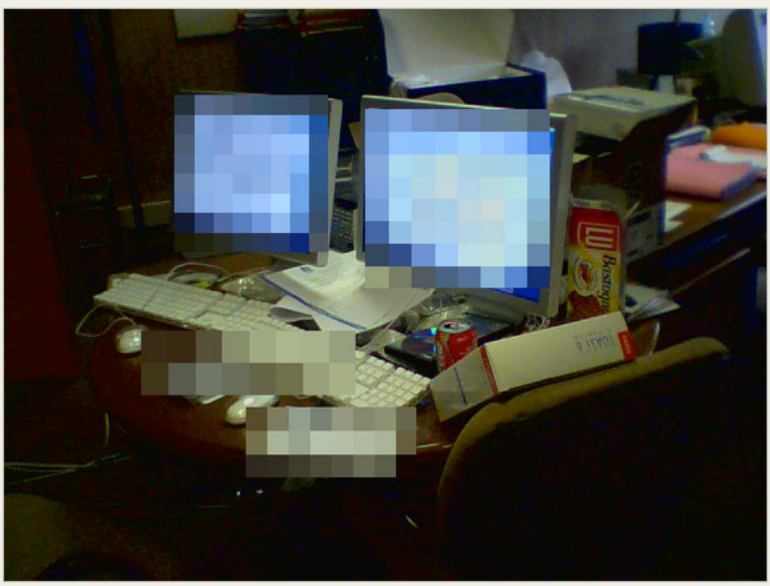

A few photographs from behind the screens.

A few desks from the archive.

Small photos. Plenty of memories.

Back to basics

The hardware is still worth a closer look.

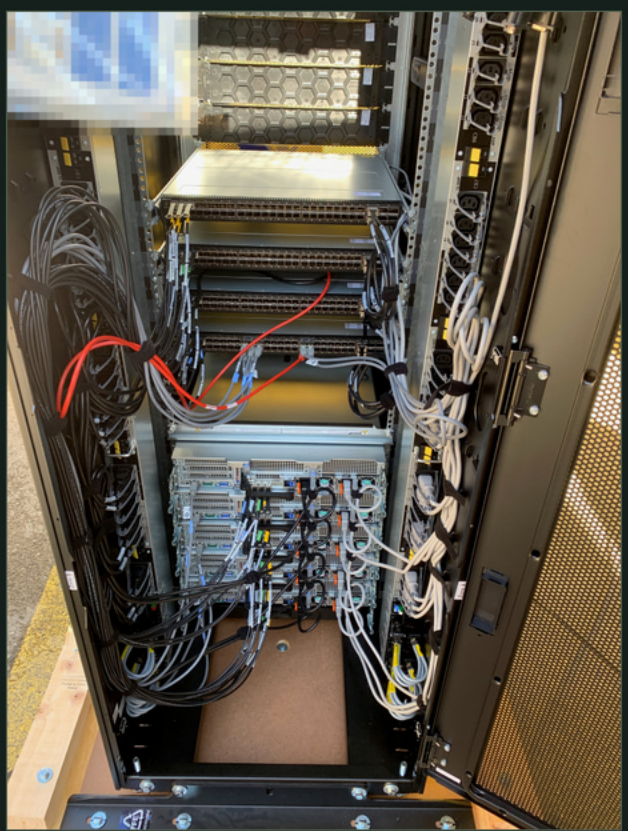

Behind the front panel.

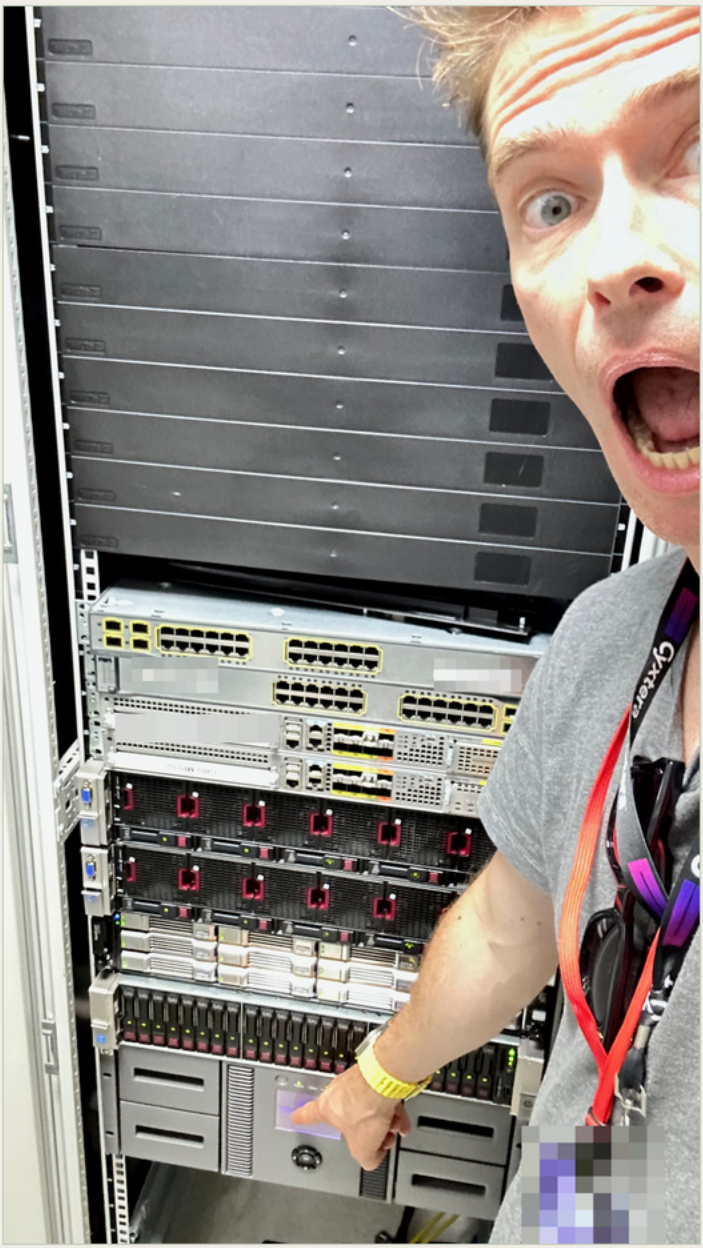

Racks, connections, and the room to reach them.

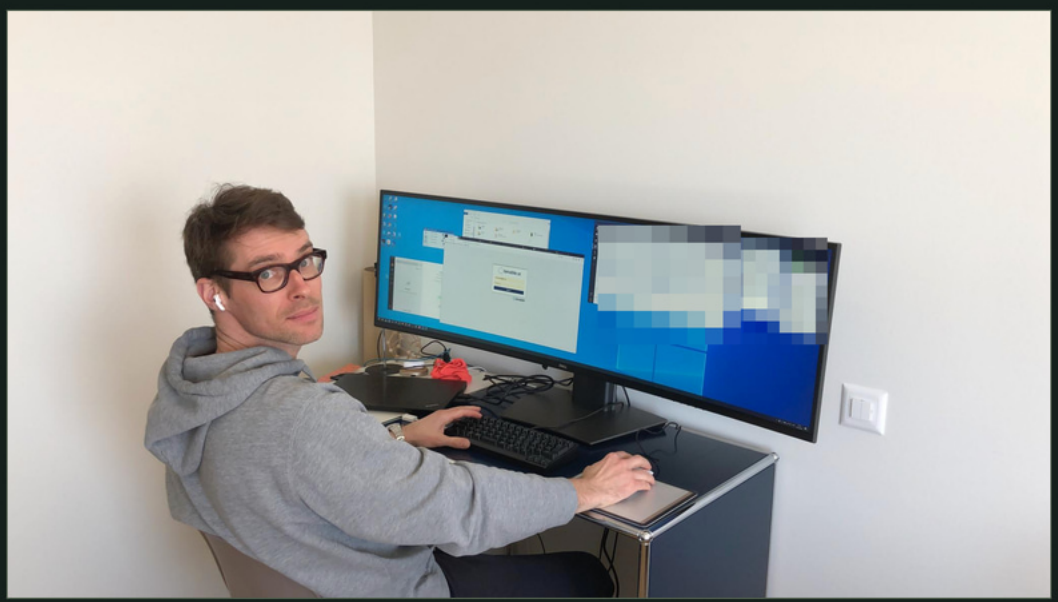

Me, next to the kit.

The scale changes.
The curiosity stays.

The COVID home setup.

My ultrawide chapter.

The boss summer setup

Daylight.
A desk.
Room to focus.

Back at the desk.

Screens, cables, and the everyday view.

A week in cardiology.

Hôpital du Valais
Healthcare
assistant.

東京・新宿

A change of scene.

Still curious.

Which machine started your story?
